Pro Farmer Canada

If you have questions about what to grow this year, where grain and oilseed prices are heading, and what to do with non-farm investments, consider one of KAP's member benefits preferred suppliers.

To learn more, start receiving market updates from Mike Jubinville at Pro Farmer Canada. When you join the Pro Farmer group, you'll automatically receive the latest news, prices, and developments that affect and influence commodity prices, conveniently sent via email. In addition, Mike Jubinville also provides a full range of marketing strategies for farmers.

For the member who wants to have access to extensive market knowledge, the Pro Farmer daily product provides a morning market preview, a mid-morning update and an afternoon market wrap-up. To get good general information on a weekly basis, there is also a product customized for this need.

In addition, members that join have access to the Pro Farmer password-protected website, which contains current news and market updates, a strategy showcase section, weather information, a commodity charts section and trend tracker report.

For a free trial of either the daily or weekly product simply e-mail the product you want (daily or weekly), with your phone number to kapbenefits@stratabenefits.ca or call Mike directly at 204-654-4290.

Mike Jubinville follows the markets extensively, he talks and exchanges emails with industry people on a daily basis, as well as farmers across Western Canada and industry professionals around the world to make sure current and relevant marketing information is made available to you. He's there to help you be more profitable!
