Thanksgiving: The Roots of Our Food

As families sit down to share Thanksgiving meals this weekend, Keystone Agricultural Producers encourages all Manitobans to take a moment to give thanks for the farm families who have worked to produce food for our tables.

Farmers play a leading role in the safe and affordable food that we enjoy in this country, and the holidays are an excellent time to reflect on their contributions. We hope Manitobans are enjoying locally-grown grains, vegetables, and meats, and we extend best wishes for a weekend filled with family, friends, and good food.

As harvest wraps up, we wish farm families all the best over this long weekend for a much-needed break with loved ones to celebrate another year of hard work.

Keystone Agricultural Producers: We are the voice of Manitoba Farmers.
